

Financial Accreditation Agency (FAA) of Malaysia launched its efficient and eco-friendly online Accreditation System FAST recently.

A convenient link to FAST from FAA's official website allows an institution to apply for registration as a registered FAA training provider at any time.

Once registered, institutions may submit their programme applications for FAA Approval, FAA Provisional Accreditation or FAA Full Accreditation. The entire process can be done remotely and is totally paperless.

The system allows FAA to track and monitor the submission process from beginning till the end.

Automated email alerts are sent to the relevant persons once a submission requires an action or response from them. Time-based triggers send email alerts at the appropriate time when training providers need to be reminded of approaching deadlines.

Training providers have already started using the FAST system for their programme submissions with great success. Islamic Banking and Finance Institute Malaysia (IBFIM) was the first training provider to register with FAA in May 2013.
