

We develop eLearning content based on many factors including the learner's age group. We have completed various eLearning content development projects for corporate (adult) learners including Cultural Insights, On Message and PSP. See 'Corporate Visitors & Courseware' for further information. We have also developed eLearning Content for children including the BTP and PPK projects for the Ministry of Education. We are currently development partners with a university creating content for gifted and talented children from the age of 8.
